

ART IN CONTEXT

Three-year master's degree programme on-site learning, in English

ADMISSION PROCEDURE FOR THE 2023/2024 ACADEMIC YEAR_ADDITIONAL ADMISSIONS

QUALIFICATIONS FOR STUDY AND CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION

In order to be accepted for study, applicants are required to demonstrate their artistic capacities, motivation, general cultural knowledge and an ability for further artistic development and the theoretical reflection of their work. This criterion is demonstrated by participating in a distance talent examination (MS Teams, Zoom, etc.) in which applicants present their portfolio of artworks and are interviewed by teachers.

PREREQUISITES FOR THE STUDY

One condition for applicants to the Art in Context study programme is to have completed their bachelor's education in the field of fine arts (or related disciplines) or to be in the final year of a bachelor's study programme. Applicants must also have a B2-level knowledge of English.

I. APPLICATION

The e-application form can be found online at www.avu.cz after 1st May 2023. The deadline for e-application is 31 May 2023. Instructions for filling in the application can be found in the same place.

The application must include:

- 1) E-application
- 2) A brief CV incl. applicants telephone number, e-mail and postal address.
- 3) Letter of motivation describing the reasons for the applicants' interest in studying, with an assessment of past interests and study experience
- 4) A scan of a certificate, diploma or similar document confirming graduation from a bachelor programme at a university or academy or completion of a similar educational programme with a record / transcript of courses taken (if available). The diploma can be alternated with applicant university's confirmation of the final year of a bachelor's study programme providing the date on which will take the final exam. Documents that were not originally issued in the Czech, English or Slovak languages must be translated into Czech or English by a certified translator.

- 5) A certified copy of a language exam diploma issued to the applicant by an internationally certified agency (TOEFL, IELTS, TOEIC, etc.), or an equivalent exam at a university in the applicant's home country, at least at the B2 level.

A scan of a document confirming payment of the processing fee (EUR 40) associated with the admission procedure. The fee is non-refundable. Please note that a payment order is not considered valid confirmation of payment.

The processing fee associated with the admission procedure for applicants to the Art in Context three-year master's degree programme is EUR 40.

The application and all other required materials and attachments must be uploaded into the IS/STAG system (on www.avu.cz) by 31 May 2023 at the latest.

The e-application must contain all required materials and information or the applicant cannot be included in the admission procedure!

II. TALENT EXAMINATIONS

No later than 14 days after the closing of the e-application, applicants will receive an invitation to the admissions procedure by email, as well as an individual identification number under which they will participate in the admission procedure. In the admission procedure, a portfolio of art works, a motivation letter and a personal interview will be evaluated.

Description of rounds 1 and 2 of the admission procedure

The admission procedure is divided into two rounds. The first round takes place on 15 June 2023 and includes an assessment of the submitted portfolios, cover letters and CVs by an admissions committee composed of selected AVU teachers and the Art in Context study program. The commission selects which candidates will advance to the talent test in the second round, which takes place on 26 – 27 June 2023 online via MS Teams, Zoom, etc.

Portfolio of artworks

The electronic portfolio is uploaded along with the electronic application. Portfolio images should be in PDF format, with a maximum portfolio size of 15 MB. In the portfolio, applicants submit original works in a digital medium or documentation (photographs, audio, video, etc.) of original works of art (drawings, paintings, sculptures, etc.). Applicants may also submit preliminary sketches of or plans for works using text, sound, electronic images, light, photography or more. If applicants wish to submit an audiovisual work, audio recording or similar work, they must record it on YouTube, Stream or a similar online platform and then include a link in their portfolio. The optimal portfolio should include fifteen artworks.

The announcement of the results of the first round of the admission procedure will take place on the AVU website on 19 June 2023.

SECOND ROUND – from and content of the exam

The second round will take place on 26 – 27 June 2023 via MS Teams, Zoom or a similar application.

In the morning, all candidates will join a video conference and receive the assigned topic. They have one day to create a work of art in any chosen form on a given topic. This work must be submitted on time.

On the second day, there will be individual interviews, which include a presentation of the portfolio of art works and an interview with teachers.

Based on the complete results of the admission procedure, the pedagogical commission will compile the order of applicants, which is then submitted to the Rector of the Academy of Fine Arts for a final decision.

Conclusion of admission procedure

The preliminary number of students selected in one year is five. Admission to study at the Academy of Fine Arts in Prague is decided by the school's rector. The decision is made out in writing within thirty days of the distance talent examination and contains a reasoning of the decision and instructions on the possibility for requesting a re-evaluation. The decision is delivered to the applicants through the school's information system and via postal service. AVU will publish a report on the course of the admission procedure on its website within fifteen days after its conclusion.

In order to be able to register for study at AVU, applicants who have been accepted must prove nostrification of their bachelor's degree diploma.

Other fees associated with foreign-language study programmes

From the academic year 2023/24, the study will require a fee. This fee will be EUR 6,000 for each academic year within the standard period of study.

If the period of study exceeds the standard study period, the study fee shall be one half of the given amount, payable at the start of each subsequent semester; the rector may reduce this fee for the semester in which the student completes his or her studies, among other things taking into account the time of study in this semester.
